British Columbia this morning.

4 government stories since yesterday, 2 breaking.

1 PROVINCIAL 2 MUNICIPAL 1 FEDERAL

Final count continues with Conservatives ahead in 64 seats

As of Nov. 7, Conservative David Xie led Burnaby South-Metrotown by 64 votes and New Democrat Stephanie Higginson led Ladysmith-Oceanside by 50. The count ends Nov. 10.

NOV 7, 2026

Source: BC Ballot (Elections BC data).

New Surrey council holds first meeting Monday on election promises

Mayor Doug McCallum's council meets Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. to bring motions on all 15 election commitments. The first include a 0 per cent property tax increase for four years.

NOV 9, 2026

Source: City of Surrey.

Vancouver, Victoria mayors back Ottawa's 10-year homelessness goal

Mayors Pete Fry and Marianne Alto say the federal goal of ending homelessness in 10 years is possible with partner funding. The budget sets aside $11.2 billion over four years.

NOV 7, 2026

Source: CBC News.

Premier-designate Doerkson welcomes federal budget as B.C. deficit looms

Lorne Doerkson called the Nov. 5 federal budget encouraging and ambitious. Economists said it may not suit B.C., where this year's deficit is forecast at almost $14 billion.

NOV 6, 2026

Source: The Canadian Press.

That was British Columbia at 5:00 a.m.

Events that fill. Campaigns that win. We plan conferences, AGMs and campaign announcements across Canada.

Book a 20-minute call