British Columbia this morning.

6 government stories since yesterday, 3 breaking.

3 PROVINCIAL 2 MUNICIPAL 1 FEDERAL

Thursday, October 29, 2026. Swipe for the stories.

Churchill STRATEGY

Doerkson says Conservatives will keep every campaign promise

Premier-designate Lorne Doerkson named tax relief, a business PST exemption and an independent financial review as early priorities. He also reaffirmed plans to repeal DRIPA and back a coastal oil pipeline.

OCT 28, 2026

Source: CFJC Today (Global News).

B.C. NDP caucus to choose interim leader this week

After the Oct. 24 election loss and David Eby's resignation as leader, the NDP caucus will name an interim leader this week. Adrian Dix, Mike Farnworth and Bowinn Ma are mentioned.

OCT 28, 2026

Source: Victoria Buzz.

McCallum urges Metro Vancouver to cancel Friday budget meeting

Surrey mayor-elect Doug McCallum says the outgoing board should not pass the 2027 budget, which carries a 1.9 per cent tax increase. The board's final meeting is Friday, Oct. 30.

OCT 28, 2026

Source: Peace Arch News.

Doerkson and Carney agree to work on B.C. economic growth

Premier-designate Lorne Doerkson spoke with Prime Minister Mark Carney on Oct. 27. A readout lists natural gas and LNG investment, trade risks and infrastructure as shared priorities.

OCT 28, 2026

Source: My Powell River Now.

Mayor-elect Pete Fry ready to work with Conservative government

Vancouver mayor-elect Pete Fry says he expects a productive relationship with the incoming provincial government. Outgoing mayor Ken Sim's council has held its final meeting.

OCT 27, 2026

Source: CTV News.

New Conservative cabinet expected by mid-November

Doerkson must balance regions and party factions in a cabinet likely smaller than the NDP's 23 members. Swearing-in waits on final results, expected around Nov. 18.

OCT 28, 2026

Source: The Canadian Press.

That was British Columbia at 5:00 a.m.

Events that fill. Campaigns that win. We plan conferences, AGMs and campaign announcements across Canada.

Book a 20-minute call